USE ABSINTHE IN EXPLOSIVE

(Paris Dispatch.)

Absinthe placed under a ban for drinking purposes by the law passed early in the war, is being used in the manufacture of gunpowder. A co-operative distillery at Pontoise, which has been extracting alcohol from beet roots for the use of the government munition factories, found the supply of beet root insufficient and is now taking over the stocks of absinthe held in warehouses. Government inspectors watch the transformation of the absinthe into alcohol.

"Don't you know that it is a great mistake to fight," said the kindly stranger.
"Yes," replied one of the two small boys. "That's what I've been telling this fellow for a long time, but he won't be satisfied till I prove it to him."—Washington Star.

Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

The Celebrated "Lynch Trio"

AT THE BIJOU

At a big expense we have secured the celebrated "Lynch Trio" of Boy and Girl singers for this coming week at The Bijou theatre; and in order that every girl and her mother may hear them tomorrow, we have decided to throw open our doors to the Afternoon Matinee and admit them to that performance absolutely FREE of any cost whatever.

This trio of singers is composed of two little girls and one brother, who are accompanied by their parents wherever they go and as they have been singing on the "Big Vaudeville Circuit," they have been "travelling some." They are always in such great demand that an order for them has to be in for some time before they can be secured.

Our confidence in their ability to please you is so great that we are submitting the ladies and girls FREE this first Matinee, believing that you will be bound to come back to hear them again and again.
